

INFORMATION SHEET FOR RESEARCH

Ethnicity, Stereotypes & Alcohol

You are invited to be in a research study of investigating the relationship between alcohol use, ethnicity and stereotypes. You were selected as a possible participant because you have met the inclusion criteria for this study.

Inclusion criteria included: participants being 18 years of age or older, proficient in speaking and reading English (i.e., spoke English for the last 8 years), having no visual, cognitive, and/or motor impairments that could preclude them from completing surveys and tasks on a device, completed at least 10 years of education, being either an Eastern European immigrant (i.e., Estonia, Poland, Latvia, Ukraine, Belarus, and Russia) currently residing in the United States or an individual born and raised in the United States for three or more generations on at least one parent's side. Participants should have consumed at least a 1 drink of alcohol in the last year. Eligible participants cannot present with current Axis I disorder, neurological trauma (such as stroke, seizure disorder, or significant head injury resulting in unconsciousness for over 10 hours), or medical conditions (such as heart, lung, liver, or kidney disease; uncontrolled diabetes; or blood pressure concerns).

We ask that you read this form and ask any questions you may have before agreeing to be in the study.

Activities:

The duration for your participation will be approximately 60 minutes. If you agree to be in this study, we will ask you to do the following things:

1. Participant would be asked to read a statement.

2. Then, participant will be asked to complete the remaining 4 blocks each containing 60 trials for both neutral GNAT (2 blocks) and alcohol-modified GNAT (2 blocks).
3. Finally, participants will be asked to complete screening tools (i.e., AUDIT, DMQ-R, DDQ, SIP, MEIM, STAI, CESD, OCDS), and comprehensive demographic questionnaire (i.e., age, gender, racial and ethnic background, socioeconomic status, and level of education) online via Qualtrics.
4. Participants will be debriefed

Confidentiality:

During the project, information from this study will be kept private and will be stored securely. Only the research team will have access to information that identifies you. Your identifying information will not be shared with others outside of this research study. However, organizations that may inspect and copy your information include the Institutional Review Board (IRB), the committee that provides ethical and regulatory oversight of research, and other representatives of this institution, including those that have responsibilities for monitoring or ensuring compliance (such as the Quality Assurance Program of the Human Research Protection Program (HRPP)).

Your data will be stored on a password protected computer in a locked lab (209A Bohannon Hall, UMD campus). In addition, data will be encrypted with the operating system's built-in encryption software (i.e., Windows Encrypting File System) noted on the Information Security Practices Website (<http://it.umn.edu/services/all/university-informationsecurity/information-security-policies-practices/topics/encryptingdata/index.htm>).

Any personal information that could identify you will be removed or changed before we publish any report or share the results or data from this study.

We will not be able to link your responses to you so we will not be able to provide you with personal feedback or referrals based on your responses to questions. If you are concerned about your mood, please refer to the attached resource referral information sheet. Please tell someone who can help right away.

Voluntary Nature of the Study:

Participation in this study is voluntary. Your decision whether or not to participate will not affect your current or future relations with the University of Minnesota. If you decide to participate, you are free to not answer any question or withdraw at any time without affecting those relationships.

Will I be compensated for my participation?

Exemption ID: STUDY00022132
HRP-587 Template Version: 7/24/2024

If you agree to take part in this research study, you will receive a 20$ Target Gift card or, if you are a participant recruited SONA, you will receive one research credit for participation which is contingent upon research study completion.

Payment you receive as compensation for participation in research is considered taxable income. If payment to an individual equals or exceeds $600 in any one calendar year, the University of Minnesota is required to report this information to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Research payments to study participants that equal or exceed $600 during any calendar year will result in a FORM 1099 (Miscellaneous Income) being issued to you and a copy sent to the IRS.
